REGISTRATION OF SOCIAL MEDIA ACCOUNTS

In order to comply with social media terms and conditions and enable the College to track authorized pages, any department, office, or student organization wishing to create a social media account must have approval from the Marketing & Public Relations office. Once approved, accounts will be created and setup by the Coordinator of Marketing & Public Relations.

It is the College's social media practice to include most departments' information and content on the main page (i.e. Garrett College Facebook, Garrett College Twitter, etc.) instead of having many smaller pages. This allows us to build a stronger campus community, market across different audiences, and use time and resources more efficiently and effectively.

Student Organizations

Student organizations requesting to have a social media site may submit a request to the Marketing & Public Relations office and provide the following information: name and contact information for their organization's advisor, who will operate, monitor, and edit the page on an ongoing basis. The student organization's advisor will be named as an administrator. The Coordinator of Marketing & Public Relations will also be named as an administrator, as a means to respond quickly in the event of an emergency.

Administrators must maintain the security of password and identification information and will be fully responsible for all use of the account and ensuring the information posted is relevant, accurate, and current. Any changes in administrators must be reported to the Coordinator of Marketing & Public Relations.

SHARING INFORMATION ON SOCIAL MEDIA

The preferred method for faculty and staff wishing to share or promote College-related information and services via social media is to contact the Marketing & Public Relations office at marketing@garrettcollege.edu. Information requests will be circulated on all main Garrett College social media accounts unless otherwise specified.

BEST PRACTICES FOR SOCIAL MEDIA IN HIGHER EDUCATION

The following are best practices that provide guidance to the use of social media in higher education. All administrators and content editors for Garrett College social media sites are advised to exercise the following guidelines listed below:

1. Information shared on social media is available to everyone...

Keep in mind that content posted may be distributed through the internet and other media channels can be viewed by the general public at large, including: journalists, prospective students, current students, donors, alumni, colleagues, employers, etc. Consider this before publishing to ensure the post will not alienate, harm, or provoke any of these groups.

Content, photographs, and video shared on social media also have the potential to be repeatedly shared and obtain a global reach and presence (yes - even after you delete a comment or a tweet).

Translation: Think twice before posting! If you would not want to see this information on the front page of the Cumberland Times-News or Republican, don't share on social media.

2. Keep things confidential by following existing Garrett College policies and federal requirements and regulations.

Follow existing college guidelines and policies regarding confidential and proprietary information, as well as applicable federal requirements (i.e. FERPA, HIPAA) and regulations when using social media.

Translation: If you're in doubt, leave it out. Personal information or confidential information posted on social media sites must be removed by the site administrator as soon as possible.

3. Be aware of copyright and follow branding guidelines established by Marketing & Public Relations. When using photographs or graphics, repurposing content or sharing information, please be mindful of copyright and fair use laws. Do not create logos or abuse logos in any shape or form.

For branding guidelines, both a profile image and a cover image for each social media site will be provided by the Marketing & Public Relations office for use.

Translation: Don't infringe on copyright and be aware of the Garrett College branding guidelines.

4. Correct and acknowledge your mistakes.

No one is perfect, and mistakes are bound to happen. What is important is how we react and respond to them in the social media world. Correct any inaccuracies or errors in a quick, upfront manner and acknowledge them in a follow-up post or comment. While it's important to be accurate, honesty and integrity are equally as important.

Translation: Read and review your post back to yourself to ensure proper spelling, punctuation and grammar in the desired message, post, or tweet prior to pressing "submit" or "send".

5. When using social media, know that you are representing Garrett College.

GARRF

Whether you are an administrator or a content editor on a social media site, understand that you are representing Garrett College. Be respectful and use a professional tone, whether it is posting new messages, following up in a comment or discussion, or responding to private messages to individuals received through social media sites.

When personally posting about or responding to Garrett College-related content, be upfront about your identity by disclosing your name and affiliation. State your role and your goals in posting the news.

In doing so, this will show the 'audience' or 'followers' of the designated social media site that you are not representing Garrett College, its administration, faculty, or staff.

Translation: Remember your role and mind your self-representation, whether it is for Garrett College or personal use while using social media.

As Garrett College develops a presence on more social media networks, best practices will continue to be added.
